

Send this form to your local newspaper!

We'd love to see your article!

While there is never a guarantee that you will be published, your chances are better with local community newspapers. Large metropolitan newspapers generally will not participate, but sometimes it is worth a try. If you are a subscriber, you might want to jot a brief courtesy note to let the editor know that you enjoy being a subscriber and that you appreciate their publication.

Including a picture may increase your chances of being published. School photos are great. Select a picture that you already have that is wholesome and HAPPY.

Sophisticated pictures of young ladies that look beyond their age do not represent what the pageant is about and generally turn the editors away.

This is a "Press Release." You should use it to share the good news of being selected as a State Finalist in the National American Miss pageant by having an article published in your local newspaper. You may not realize it, but many of the articles you see in the newspaper each day are not compiled by a reporter but are sent in by individuals like yourself. While there is no guarantee of it being printed, there is also no cost to try. If you would like to try to have your "Press Release" published, just follow these easy steps:

- 1. Neatly fill in the blanks. Include your name and phone number as a contact in case the newspaper would like to get more pictures, etc.
2. Make photocopies of this page.
3. Cut off the top portion of the copies at the dotted line. The bottom portion will be sent to the newspapers.
4. Get the address(es) of the newspaper(s) that you would like to involve.
5. Write "Attention: Editor" on the front of your mailing envelope.
6. Send your completed press release (the bottom portion of this form) to the newspaper along with a photograph of yourself. Do not include money.

Do not send this form to the pageant office. Send it to the newspapers.
